

At the turn of this year 2023, the Lord put a word on my heart which became the theme for our church for the next 7 years. The theme was “turning the world upside down” found in Acts 17:6. This phrase simply means to influence something. We set out to influence the 7 mountains of society: namely Families, Education, Religion, Business, Government, Media and Arts, Entertainment & Sports. Our focus for the year 2023 was Influencing Families. Little did I know that fighting for children will become front and center. With this in mind, our “fight” to help raise our children's rights becomes more important.

In June 2015, the US Supreme Court ruling recognizing same-sex marriage created social issues regarding scriptural mandates. After the US Supreme Court ruling, several things have come into play. One of them is “Gender Dysphoria” which in layman's terms means “confusion” over one’s gender. This has created confusion for vulnerable children. Now we have schools making decisions for our children in the name of protecting them which is further deepening the confusion. The standard of right and wrong is a parent's right not that of a government or a school. As a church that cares about children and our community, we want to help parents. Please understand that the scripture teaches us that LOVE is the greatest weapon in all we do. So I encourage you to approach this in LOVE and be respectful of others even if you disagree with them. This page contains links and information meant to help you and your family raise your children in a commonsense manner through HOMESCHOOLING. I recognize that not every family can homeschool their child, but this is to help you find alternative. Please pay attention to the textbooks the kids are reading. Always continue to pray for our educators and let us hope for a better community.

Much Love

Neil Acheampong,

Pastor-Covenant Family Chapel